MEMORANDUM

TO: Barbara Lipscomb, City Manager

FROM: Roger Johnson, Economic Development & Revitalization Manager RJ

DATE: July 6, 2017

RE: Notes to Council

SUBJECT: Project Tool-Up

---

Project Tool-Up was a collaborative project between the City of Greenville, Pitt Community College, Strive and Region Q. Project Tool-Up was a publicly funded program to help residents quickly obtain job skills training for employment in advanced manufacturing.

Project Tool-Up was recently completed and successfully graduated 12 students from the program. Initial class enrollment included 18 applicants, 14 students actually participated and 2 withdrew. Students were sponsored by Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act program (Adult, DW or Youth), Region Q and the City of Greenville. The City paid for nine Greenville citizens of the 14 total students.

All students obtained an OSHA 10 card, certification in Lean Six Sigma Yellow Belt, and completed other course work involving Math, Workplace Communication and Resume Writing.

Originally, eight industries agreed to participate in the interview process, two dropped out. As a result the companies of ASMO, Mestek, Practicon, Weyerhaeuser, CMI and Purilum interviewed the graduates. The interviews proved a positive experience for all students, with three students receiving an offer for a second interview and one an internship. PCC will continue to track the progress of all students.
